Happy New Year! As 2012 begins, we offer best wishes to all of the wonderful RVers who visit Cathedral Palms RV Resort, whether you stay for a day, a week or a season.

With our great Winter weather, the campground is nearing capacity as Snowbirds gather to enjoy sunny and warm days.

Last year we were able to make significant upgrades to the campground and we

Last year we had several big events, so here is the Hidden Springs Resort 2011 Year in Review.

Easter weekend was fun with a lot of activities and egg hunts. Then came Memorial Day; it was a blast, literally! During that weekend we blew a transformer and the electric company had to install a larger one. The pools were open, it was hot and everyone had a great time.

Here it is 2012 already – time is going pretty quick. The weather has been pretty nice so far, except for all the rain we've been getting.

Despite the wet Winter weather, our guys have still been able to work on some projects, such as the shelter house. It will look nice when everyone gets back in the Spring. I'm looking forward to everyone's return.

Then came July 4th weekend, where we had just as much fun and the park was hopping with people swimming, fishing, and playing sports. Our cake walk was a super success and everyone enjoyed our big fireworks show on the river. Sadly on that same day, God took from us a wonderful woman and a great boss, Marlies Novelli.

July 4th cake walk

Marlies loved Hidden Springs as well as the other parks and would have wanted us to carry on so we did, but with heavy hearts.

August brought tropical storm Lee, causing our peaceful little river to flood the park, ruining our Labor Day weekend plans. We finally got the park open just in time for the Southern District Boy Scout Troops to camp with us.

In October we celebrated Halloween in a big way. Our Hidden Haunted House was sure enough scary! The hay ride and Trick 'r Treating through the park and to Ol' River Steak House was also fun. Thanks to every ghost, goblin and costumed person who participated and all the campers who gave out candy.

November and December are not big camping months as the temperatures cool, but we enjoyed Thanksgiving and Christmas with everyone that was at our campground.

Thanks to everyone who camped with us in 2011. You made it a great year and we loved having you at the park. We hope each of you have a Happy and Prosperous New Year and we look forward to you camping with us again in 2012! We plan to have just as much fun if not more than we did last year!!

Happy New Year!

intend to continue on that path in the new year. Several of our regular public guests were so pleased with the improvements here that they became members.

Holidays in the desert always provide plenty of unique and interesting events and the Palm Springs Festival of Lights Christmas Parade is one of the best. Everyone and everything in the parade is adorned with lights and the event attracts 80,000 visitors. No wonder why it's been named one of the Top Ten Holiday Parades in the country. It's just one more reason to visit us during the holidays.

Another reason is, of course, food and fun! This year 28 of our members and guests gathered to help us decorate the office and Christmas tree,

The volunteers that are here had a really nice Christmas pot luck dinner. Thirteen of us had a fun evening with dinner, music and a gift exchange. We each brought in a small gift and made a game out of it. It was a give-and-take game of cards where each person finally ended up with something at the end of the game. You might not have wanted the gift you got but that was the fun of the game. Marge Oney decorated the clubhouse and provided the music. It was a pretty nice day. The weather cooperated for us that day so we didn't freeze to death! We missed having the rest of our volunteers with us but we thought about you while having fun.

This month John H and I are going to RV shows around the area. We are hoping to get the word out about the park. We want to take some pictures with us. If any of you have nice pictures of you having fun here, please send them to me at the office; we need them as soon as possible. We will be going to Vandalia and Columbus.

We all hope you had a good Christmas and New Year's. We'll be here waiting for your return in the Spring. Hope all of you have a good winter.

it under the tree, our new 55" flat panel TV (shown above) dominated its side of the lobby and will be a great addition to our next party, which is of course for the Superbowl next month.
